Live Like Levi Foundation

The Live Like Levi Foundation was established to honor the memory of 13 year old, Levi Maciejewski. On August 20, 2024, the day before he was to start 8th grade, Levi was the victim of a rapidly growing crime known as financial sextortion.

Within 24 hours of his tragic death, the phrase “Live Like Levi” became a thing. No one person can take credit for it- it just happened. The mantra blossomed in the wake and began to provide a sense of comfort and hope for the teenagers and adults within the small community of Shippensburg, Pennsylvania, who were grieving the unimaginable loss of Levi.

About Our Panelists

Hope Inspire Love

Amy Thurston

Amy Thurston is the Founder, President, and Chief Executive Officer of Hope Inspire Love. As CEO, she is passionate about leading the organization's daily operations and strategic planning efforts. As a seasoned executive, she is guiding the mission of eradicating human trafficking and sexual exploitation, providing freedom to victims, hope to the hopeless, and restoring the lives of survivors. Fueled by her passion for justice, she has spent nearly two decades building innovative programs that apply a social justice lens to teens and young adults' experienced trauma. By empowering survivors to outgrow the label of 'survivor' and fostering their strengths, she has cultivated critical efforts to uplift, inspire, and encourage others to be their best selves.

Lancaster County District Attorney Office

Heather Adams

Ms. Adams is a native of Lititz, Lancaster County. She graduated from Warwick High School and received her Bachelor of Arts degree from Millersville University, cum laude. Ms. Adams received her juris doctorate from Widener University School of Law in 1997, where she graduated cum laude. Ms. Adams then served as a judicial law clerk for the Honorable James P. Cullen in the Lancaster County Court of Common Pleas. Thereafter, she accepted a position as an Assistant District Attorney for the York County District Attorney's.

In 2002, Ms. Adams accepted a position with the Pennsylvania Attorney General's Office where she was responsible for felony drug and narcotics and corrupt organizations prosecutions in a nine-county area, including Lancaster County. Ms. Adams then joined Pyfer Reese Straub Gray and Farhat in March 2013 and where she concentrated her practice on criminal defense. Ms. Adams was then elected to serve as District Attorney of Lancaster County in 2020 and again in 2024 and currently serves in that capacity.

Live Like Levi Foundation

Tricia Maciejewski

Tricia Maciejewski is a wife, mother and educator. After her teenage son's tragic death in 2024, as a victim of financial sextortion, Tricia took on the additional titles of survivor parent and President of the Live Like Levi Foundation. She never wanted to be a public speaker or advocate, however through her traumatic experience and her collaboration with the Federal Bureau of investigations, she has become very knowledgeable and in turn quite passionate about offering useful information on a complex and commonly uncomfortable topic. Her unique perspective is compelling and draws listeners in. She delivers a critical and potentially lifesaving message on the dangers of the digital age. Tricia holds a Bachelor in Science in Elementary Education and a Master of Science in Organizational Development & Leadership from Shippensburg University.

About Our Panelists

Pennsylvania Family Support Alliance

Justin Donofrio

Justin serves as the Director of Prevention Programs at the Pennsylvania Family Support Alliance (PFSA), where he leads statewide efforts to strengthen families and prevent child abuse through community-based supports. In this role, he oversees PFSA's prevention programs and directs Pennsylvania's CBCAP (Community-Based Child Abuse Prevention) Network, partnering with organizations across the Commonwealth to build coordinated, accessible resources for children and families. Justin holds a Master of Science in Social Work (MSSW) with a concentration in Management, Leadership, and Community Practice, along with a graduate certificate in Nonprofit Management from Temple University.

Ponessa Behavioral Health

Cathy DeGuire, Michelle Blake

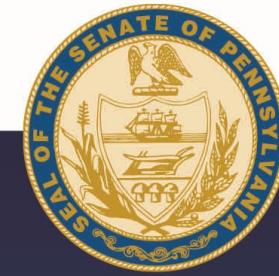

Cathy DeGuire, MS, JD, MBA, LPC, is the Chief Executive Officer of Ponessa Behavioral Health, where she leads the organization's operations and strategic direction in providing behavioral health services to children, adolescents, adults, and families. With nearly three decades of leadership and clinical experience, she brings a multidisciplinary background in clinical care, law, and business, along with a practical, systems-level perspective on mental health and family well-being.

Michelle Blake is the Mental Health Outpatient Director at Ponessa Behavioral Health. This year marks 27 years with Ponessa Behavioral Health, starting as a Therapeutic Support Staff, then a Mental Health Outpatient Therapist and has been in the Director role for 20 years. Michelle supervises about 45 Mental Health Outpatient Clinicians in Lancaster, York, Harrisburg and Lebanon and loves the work that she does.

Safe2Say Something

Brittney Kline

Brittney Kline is the Director for the Safe2Say Something Program in the Pennsylvania Office of Attorney General. Brittney is a former police officer with Springettsbury Township Police Department in York County. She started with the PA Office of Attorney General as a Special Agent in the Child Predator Section and then moved into a position as a Supervisory Agent with the Office of Professional Responsibility. When the Safe2Say Program was implemented through the Office of Attorney General, she was selected, from many candidates, to be the Director.
